ASSEMBLY

1. Pin arms and legs in place, ensuring symmetry. Arms are placed just below the neck edge of the legs should align with the bottom of the sweater. The front of the leg is the section with 9 decreases on the white portion.

2. Sew on arms and legs with nylon thread, using a long needle. Use a single thread for both limbs (see diagram below - not included in this text format). Make at least 3 passes with the thread. For the first two passes, do not bring the thread out at the bottom of the belly; instead, insert the needle directly through the body and into the next limb. Secure the thread with a knot.

3. Sew the tail just below the bottom edge of the sweater.

Diagram Description (Not included as diagram)

The diagram should show the nylon thread passing through one arm, across the body to the other arm, then down to one leg, across the body to the other leg, and knotted inside the body.
